

The Kingdom of God amongst the world's armed forces continues to grow

A seasonal message from MMI Chief Executive & Team Leader, Colonel (Retd) Jos McCabe

Well it's that time again - it's Christmas! And the end of another year is in sight as I write this short piece to look back with thanks and look forward depending on the Lord. I have just re-read the Christmas story and am once again struck by the obedience of Mary and Joseph to the Lord's commands, the commitment of the wise men to travel many miles in search of God and the shepherds who, having seen the Christ child, "spread the word". Obedience, commitment and witness to the same Lord 2,000 years later is what we in MMI are about, I hope! It's the same Lord who has so graciously provided, guided, encouraged and loved us throughout the past year. Some examples:

- Once again MMI almost ran out of money at the start of the year and once again the Lord opened hearts to give.

- We were privileged to have been allowed to play a small part in the birth of new MCFs in Italy, Namibia and South Sudan.
- We helped to bring some of our friends from the Middle East together at a special AMCF Retreat in Cyprus.
- In Europe we continued to build relationships with Christians from other traditions in the Balkans and to take part in our scheduled events at the European Military Christian Meeting, Lübbecke and the skiing and sailing retreats.
- In South Asia new brothers and sisters in Christ have been found in Assam and follow up visits paid to B. The AMCF Vice President has made visits to Nepal and Bangladesh (his report is on Page 2).

- The new AMCF President, General Srilal Weerasooriya and his wife, Dilhani have been commissioned and have started visiting MCFs.

Of course there have been challenges, some disappointments and sadness in the last twelve months including the deaths of some friends and co-workers but we have continued to know, throughout it all, the love of the Lord expressed through the prayers and encouragements of our supporters and Christians in the military from all over the world. In the New Year the MMI Executive Council and Staff will meet for our start of the year retreat from 14-17 January. Please do pray that we will have good fellowship and clearly hear what the Lord is telling us as we pray and plan.

We will also be continuing to pray, plan and work at preparing for AMCF 2014 and the coming Pray and Plan which will be here in UK from 28 February-1 March, immediately before our Supporters' Weekend on 2-3 March. Do pray for these events and consider coming to the Supporters' Weekend. Finally, I hope you enjoy this Newsletter and are encouraged by what the Lord is doing in and through MMI. Thank you for joining with us in this work and I pray that we all will know the joy of serving our Lord remembering, as John puts it, "The word became flesh and made his dwelling among us".

AMCF VP, Commander (Retd) Mathew is excited by what the Lord is doing in Bangladesh and Nepal!

Praise the Lord! He works mysteriously in our lives. As usual the Lord has been faithful in all things and He showed me how I needed to depend and trust Him in all I do, even through this trip. Despite, an exciting and a blessed visit, the start of its very process was amazing, strange and faith strengthening. A number of incidents occurred which threatened the visit as scheduled and led to encounters through spiritual warfare before and during the trip. It seemed impossible to get visas issued in time. But, I knew that there was a prayer support at my back and the mighty hand of the Lord will work. I needed to trust the Lord for everything to happen at His perfect timing. And that is what happened! I received a call from Islamabad to come and collect my visa. The Defence Adviser at the Bangladesh Embassy authorising my visa was a friend of Bangladesh MCF (BMCF) Vice President, Colonel(Retd) Joseph Rozario. God had put people in key places to see it issued almost instantly. What a wonderful God we serve! At Dhaka airport, I was received by Colonel Joseph. In the evening I had an opportunity to visit his village. The next day, I witnessed a beautiful celebration of 125th Anniversary of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Dhaka and 400 years of Christianity in Bangladesh. The gathering, led by Cardinal Cor-mac Murphy-O'Connor, was nearing ten thousand comprising all ages. It started at 8.30 am and continued till 9 pm. It was a great opportunity and so heartening to see the leadership of all denominations present there, praising and worshipping the Lord together. BMCF had its Annual General Meeting the next day. Wing Commander(Retd) Christopher, Secretary BMCF shared about the BMCF activities in the last year along with the way ahead for the next year. I briefed the audience about AMCF, including AMCF 2014 (see pages 4-5) and the AMCF President's vision of "conservation of the fruit". Ours being a difficult region, I also emphasized on living by faith under hard and trying circumstances within as well as outside the MCF. This was reiterated by the chief guest, Father Emmanuel Rozario, Rector of the Holy Spirit Major Seminary. During this short visit, I observed that Christians are doing well spiritually, socially and economically. They are approximately 0.4% of the population and are looked upon with respect because of their honest dealing and upright working. Sadly, very few are inclined to join the armed forces. It was matter of pride for them that Major General(Retd) John Gomes, President BMCF had been appointed as Ambassador to the Philippines.

Commander (Retd) Mathew with present (and future!) NMCF members

At Kathmandu airport Nepal AMCF (NMCF) President, Pastor Indra Basnet and Ang Dawa greeted me in their traditional manner. NMCF had its 7th Annual Assembly at Aanandit Church. Two-days meetings went back to back from 10am to 6pm with praise and worship, prayers, preaching and teaching the Word of God, thanksgivings and reports of different areas. The first day commenced with the inauguration/welcome of guests performed by Shanti Rana, the widow of the founder of MCF followed by the lighting of seven candles by the guests to mark seven years of NMCF. Two former USAF officers, Captain Marc and Sergeant Richard, now pastors, from Colorado, USA were also invited as speakers. A congregational lunch was preceded by three teaching sessions including mine on the history of AMCF and the President's vision of "conserving the fruit". I also briefed them about activities of our Benaiah coupled with a message on the character and life of Benaiah from 2 Samuel 23. The next day I was able to share my testimony and some amazing things Lord is doing in the church in Pakistan. My main message was on "What the Bible says about marriage and the practical steps to keep it strong and healthy". The need of this is being felt by the leadership of NMCF. It was encouraging to see that despite travelling difficulties the church hall was almost at capacity on both days. People from all seven regions were present. It was encouraging and satisfying to see that people were not only enthusiastic and energetic but were present with great eagerness to learn from the Word of God; carrying their Bibles, notebooks and pencils. There was considerable representation in uniform. I witnessed their love for God and thirst for learning to become true disciples of Jesus.

Exploring exciting opportunities in North East India

MMI Supporter, Colonel (Retd) Paddy Hughes' account of his recent trip to Assam, India with Regional Team Leader, Chris West

In April, MMI Regional Team Leader for South Asia, Chris West, visited Kolkata and met with Bishop Ashoke who introduced him to Lieutenant General Mukherjee from the Indian Army, a member of the Cathedral congregation in Kolkata and former commander of the Assam Regiments. The General volunteered to accompany him on a visit to Shillong where the HQ of the Assam Regiments resided. For this follow-up trip Colonel (Retd) Paddy Hughes of the South Asia Regional Pray and Plan Group (RPPG) accompanied Chris. Paddy writes, "Chris West and I with General Mukherjee flew from Kolkata to Guwahati airport in Assam and travelled by car to Shillong in Meghalaya Province. Contact was made with a wonderful Christian – Colonel (Retd) Martin (Marty) Khongmen lately of the Assam Rifles. Marty agreed to form an MCF in Shillong. Not only that, but he introduced us to the church leaders in Shillong including - the Church of North India Anglican Church, the Presbyterian Church and the Roman Catholic Cathedral. In addition, we met Rev Dr Vanlal Nghaka who is an internationally recognised evangelist and is generally accepted as the Head of the Mizoram Christian Community in India. The Mizo people are one of the bigger Christian groups in North East India and are mainly Presbyterian. The Presbyterian churches around Shillong have the greatest contact with serving military so their support was vital if the MMI discipleship course, Biblical Service, was to be run. By "coincidence" we met a pastor in Shillong who had been tasked to help run a deserted Christian church, recently taken over, for Chaplaincy to the Indian Border Police. The Pastor had been at a loss to know what to say to the Police in his opening address. He went away with a copy of Biblical Service and a smile on his face from ear to ear. We returned to Kolkata and briefed Bishop Ashoke on developments in the North East. The Bishop was delighted with progress and asked Rev Nigel Pope, Vicar of the Cathedral in Kolkata, to set up a prayer support team to pray for the work going on amongst military Christians in North East India. A final act on this Indian journey was a visit to the Bible Society in Kolkata to discuss the possible production of camouflage covered Bibles. The Head of the Indian Bible Society in Kolkata told us that he was unaware of any initiative to address the needs of Christians in the Indian Military, during his 22 yr tenure. This story has only just started and more is bound to follow." We Praise God for the warmth of hospitality experienced during our visit and for our supporters who made it possible through prayer and generous giving.

Update on AMCF 2014

From MMI Chief Executive & Team Leader, Colonel Jos McCabe

You can read elsewhere in these pages about the Warrior Training for AMCF 2014 but other work has also been continuing in support of the event. In conjunction with The Armed Forces Christian Union (AFCU) (UK) and by kind permission of the Constable of the Tower of London, our Patron General the Lord Dannatt, a reception and fund raising dinner has been organised in the Tower on 5th March. It will be hosted by our Patron and AMCF President, General Srilal Weerasooriya. Space is limited and attendance is by invitation only, however if you know of anyone who might like to be invited on the basis of making a large donation towards AMCF 2014 please do let the office know by Monday 14th January. We pray that the event will help to raise the profile and much needed funds for AMCF 2014. A few days before the Tower event and immediately before the MMI Supporters' Weekend (see enclosed flier), a Pray and

Plan for AMCF 2014 will be held here in UK at Windmill Farm (near Shrivenham). We will be welcoming the AMCF President and his wife, representatives of our partner organisations, the South African planning team, and members of the Christian Military Fellowship Support Initiative (Nigeria). Over 2 days the team will assess planning progress and seek the Lord's help for the next stages. Please do pray for wisdom, discernment and the Lord's guidance for the team.

If you can help with hosting or transport for our guests during the period, 27 February-6 March 2013, please do let our office know. Contact details are on the back page.

“God is building a firm foundation for AMCF 2014” is the conclusion of MMI Regional Team Leader for East and Southern Africa, Major Homfray Vines

Wortelgat, near Stanford in the Western Cape was the venue for the AMCF 2014 Process Worksession and the Warrior Training that followed. Wortelgat is a Christian owned bush camp 2 hours drive east of Cape Town. AMCF President, General Srilal Weerasooriya, and his wife Dilhani, along with AMCF 2014 Directors and representatives of ACCTS USA and MMI were present. Administrative Director, Linda Steyn had made a wonderful job of preparing the venue for both events – we felt very welcome. The first 48 hours, spent developing processes for the various portfolios of the AMCF 2014 team, were intensive but hugely productive. The work sessions were facilitated by Schoeman Loubser and went very well, with many important processes being charted for AMCF 2014. Highlights included a surprise 'Thanksgiving' meal on the first night for Phil Exner and Bernhard Kaltenbach from ACCTS USA. This was a great gesture of welcome by the South Africans. On Sunday morning a very special and intimate time of worship and communion was shared as a team. The sense of fellowship and of being 'all one in Christ Jesus' was amazing, both with the planners during the session and then throughout the Warrior Training which followed. Warrior Training, run by AFCU's Major Rhett Parkinson kicked off on Sunday afternoon. The team really felt the Lord was doing something new and significant, whilst numbers were fewer than anticipated the consensus was that these were God's chosen people. Gideon's selected men (Judges 7) was a story at least 4 people gave us when praying! As facilitators reviewing the training at the end of the week, we were grateful God had sent us only 16 to train, as many more would have been too unwieldy for us. As it was, many lessons were learnt and decisions made. At the end of the training Able Seaman El-Roy Cook said: "I consider it such a pleasure and an honour to have been part of Warrior Training 2012, and my experience there has been spiritually revitalizing and empowering. I thank God for the people that He used to make it all possible and I am looking forward to sharing what I learned with my family, friends and with those at our Fellowship."

“Is the Lord building AMCF 2014 with blocks of Trained Warriors?”

Reflections on the way ahead for Warrior Training and for AMCF 2014

by MMI Regional Team Leader for East & Southern Africa, Major Homfray Vines

Eureka! Has God given us a model for discipling Christians in the armed forces that will fulfil the vision and mission of AMCF 2014? The facilitating team and participants at the recent Warrior Training at Wortelgat in South Africa were certainly being encouraged to think so. These 16 warriors were being trained to lead small groups at AMCF 2014. However, the immediate outcome is that they have been trained, inspired and commissioned to go out into their MCFs and military units to practice what they have learnt. They are already making a difference!

The question that has been raised is, “Is Warrior Training a ‘pearl of great value’ which would execute and model the vision and mission of AMCF 2014 before it starts?” The event would then be significantly enriched by the experience these Warriors gained from implementing, in their own armed forces, what they have learnt on Warrior Training.

Just as the golfer has to concentrate as much on his swing, before and after hitting the ball, as he does on the impact itself, so preparation for and follow up after AMCF 2014 is as important as the event itself.

It is wonderful to see how the Lord has led us step by step to deliver the first Warrior Training. However, can we now receive a vision to train up over 200 Warriors before AMCF 2014 so that we can send out even more warriors from the event itself? Warriors that are inspired and equipped to disciple effectively the military men and women of their nations. This is one of the challenges for the Pray and Plan team to consider when they meet in February in UK. Please pray with us for the Lord’s clear leading and guidance on this strategic issue.

“God is moving the fellowships forward in East Africa”

by MMI Regional Team Leader for East & Southern Africa, Major Homfray Vines

Thank you so much for your prayers for my October trip to East Africa. This was a visit of significant and eternal value.

The Lord re-arranged my programme so that I could be in Kampala, for the Ugandan Golden Jubilee celebrations for 50 years as an independent nation. I was able to attend an amazing National Prayer Breakfast hosted by President Museveni, the National Golden Jubilee Thanksgiving service and the Independence Parade. One outcome was a revelation from God that needs to be passed on to the President concerning returning the places of worship in the barracks to the Lord our God (Leviticus 25:17&23). Please pray that the ‘herald’ (Habakuk 2:2) will be able to deliver this revelation. Whilst there I was also able to encourage Colonel Tom, the leader of the MCF, Mrs Ruth Wakaalo and Rev Charles Okongo as they work towards establishing the military chaplaincy and grow the MCF.

In Nairobi I was warmly welcomed by the new Principal Chaplain AC, Major (Rev) Lelei. He is keen to have the AMCF East Africa Prayer Convention in Kenya, possibly next May. They would also like to set up the Military Fellowship Support Organisation to help the work of the AMCF in the East Africa region. Please give thanks that this indeed was a strategic and very valuable visit.

In Addis Ababa, Ethiopia I had the privilege of 2 very good meetings with the leaders of the Defence Christian Fellowship (DCF). We are greatly encouraged by the courage and determination of this group of Christians who have had seven members summarily dismissed from the armed forces over the last 9 months for being active members of the DCF. Please pray for them as they find their way forward in their desire to appoint six evangelists to work in their armed forces.

New AMCF VP for Franco-Phone Africa

Colonel Alain Daniel Nyoya, a serving Air force officer from Cameroon, has become the new AMCF Vice President for Franco-Phone Africa. The mantle was passed on to him from Colonel Gaston Gnoumou (Burkina Faso) in October with the approval of the AMCF Presidential Bench. Daniel is married and has 4 children, he is a pilot and is also a founding member and President of the Cameroon MCF. Jos McCabe says “It is great to have Daniel as the new regional Vice President.

He is an excellent communicator and speaks fluent English which really helps me.” Daniel attended the AMCF Pan-African Conference in Nairobi in 2008 and the ACCTS USA Chaplains Interaction programme. Jos McCabe will be travelling to Cameroon in February to meet up with Daniel and Gaston for prayer and discussion about the work in the Franco-Phone region.

Jos will also be travelling on from Cameroon to Ghana in February to meet up with the

Multi-confessional fellowship at the Slovak Military Academy

MMI Regional Team Leader for Europe, Rev Grozdan Stoevski, reports on a highly successful visit to the Slovak Military Academy

In mid-November Lieutenant Colonel (Retd) Rainer Thorun and I connected in Vienna and travelled by car to the beautiful small town of Liptovski Mikulas, home of the Slovak Military Academy located in the picturesque Tatra Mountains of north eastern Slovakia. There they were hosted by Rev Victor Sabo, the Lutheran Chaplain at the Academy who had also arranged a meeting with the Rector, Brigadier General Durkech, The Rector was very kind and accommodating and appreciated the idea of hosting a Cadet Bible Conference next year and offered to help with the logistics for the event. Later in the day, Rainer and I had the opportunity to meet with some of the cadets and officers at the Academy's Roman Catholic Chapel. It was true multi-confessional military fellowship. Some of them, such as Captain Tomas Banas had attended the Lithuania Cadet Bible Camp.

The next day we had a meeting at the Police Department with Chief Chaplain Milan Petrula and Chaplain Jan Paciga, both Lutheran. I had met them both earlier in the year at the RIMP Conference in France. The two Chaplains were briefed about MMI and they in turn shared with us about the Police Chaplaincy. It was very obvious that they have good cooperation with the military chaplains in the country. Both chaplains expressed an interest in the Cadet Bible Conference and also in the other MMI annual events. Invitations were extended accordingly.

Advent and the Italian MCF is born!

by MMI Staff Member, Rev Mike Terry

Links with individual Italian Naval Christians have been established for many years through the European Naval Christian Link-Up and, following the visit by myself and AMCF VP, Brian Parker two years ago, they produced a website to link up military Christians in the country. About 30 people have registered through this, with more interested. Brian and I paid a follow-up visit in early December to encourage this nascent fellowship and investigate further progress.

We received an extremely warm welcome, full of expansive Italian hospitality and were highly encouraged to meet an enthusiastic group of Naval and Police Christians in Taranto. We presented the principles, passions and missions of AMCF and MMI at length to this group during an all-day meeting. We also discovered that, following attendance in 2011 by two Italian Christians on MSO's Military Evangelism Observation Course, the Italian MCF drafted a constitution and it was formally registered on 24th September this year. It seeks now to expand its work into the Army, Airforce and Carabinieri. During this meeting the group elected their President, Vice-President, Prayer Co-ordinator, Secretary and Treasurer who were commissioned during a short but rich time of prayer amid much thanksgiving. We later had opportunities to preach and present AMCF and MMI's work at two local churches. We praise God for his faithfulness and pray for Italy as this new MCF seeks to consolidate and expand!

Egypt's revolution leads to a country divided

MMI Regional Team Leader for The Middle East, Colonel Richard Sandy reports on his recent visit to Egypt

Regional Pray & Plan Group (RPPG) chairman, Captain Mike Barritt RN, and I made a timely visit to Cairo recently and witnessed at first-hand the stark division that has emerged within the country following the 2011 revolution. Supporters of the Muslim Brotherhood are seeking to impose a particularly conservative view of Islam through a new and unrepresentative constitution. They are opposed by 'liberals', drawn from a wide range of Egyptian society and who were at the forefront of the early Arab Spring revolutionary movement, who say this is not the 'democracy' they fought for. The current crisis was exacerbated by the newly-installed President, a member of the Brotherhood, giving himself exceptional autocratic and dictatorial powers, in order to drive through the new constitution; a constitution which many feel lays the ground for a fundamentalist Islamic state. Christians are very concerned over the direction the country is headed and moderate Muslims, especially women, are even more concerned about the impact this narrow interpretation of Islam will have on them. Each side in the divide has mounted large demonstrations and an accommodation which satisfies both sides is hard to see being achieved in the short term. In the meantime these large demonstrations have the potential to turn violent and to destabilise the country. With the United States apparently supporting him, the new Egyptian President does not appear concerned to accommodate any of the opposition's demands. It was against this background that Mike and I met with our friends in Cairo who are trying to establish a fledgling MCF in Egypt. We learned that the few

Christians serving full careers in the armed forces were being retired, along with other non-Brotherhood supportive officers. However, compulsory military service still meant Christians would, for the time being, be called up to serve for 2 to 3 years. Therefore, the MCF group agreed a strategy to focus on prayer for Christians as they prepare for and undergo their military service. At a meeting held in our friend's home, we met with some of those who will form the MCF group. By way of another of the Lord's 'coincidences' we also met with our friend from Tunisia, who happened to be visiting Cairo over the same dates on a totally separate training course! In meeting him, we also met the other Christians attending that training which included representatives from Mauritania, Morocco, Tunisia and Libya – valuable brothers in Christ within our region. We also attended the Advent Sunday service in All Saints Cathedral in Cairo where we met Rev Mike Parker, who led the service, and a MMI supporter who happened also to be visiting Cairo at the same time. The main purpose of the visit was to meet and encourage the leaders and members of the MCF, which we believe was achieved. However, it also provided new friendships and a much better understanding of the situation facing Christians in Egypt. All those we met asked that we pray that the continuing demonstrations will not become violent and that the President will listen to the demands of the opposition and agree to some accommodation of their wishes.

Arab Spring - and Democracy ?

MMI Regional Team Leader for The Middle East, Colonel Richard Sandy reflects on developments in the region

We have considerable concern about the turmoil in the Middle East resulting from the 'Arab Spring', and particularly the plight of Christians in the region. At the beginning of the 'Arab Spring' Christians were faced with the dilemma of following what they believe to be biblical instruction to obey the authorities (Romans 13v1) or supporting an opposition which they, along with the rest of the country, believed would lead to greater freedom and a form of democracy. Many Christians felt unable to openly support either option and are seen therefore by both sides

Developments in the Middle East

as favouring the other. As a result, thousands of Syrians, including Christians, have fled or been forced to leave their country. There has been an increasing breakdown in law and order in Syria and we know of Christians who have been kidnapped by criminal gangs seeking a ransom. I am pleased to report that when I last spoke with our brother in Damascus he and his family were safe, although life is becoming more and more difficult.

Following the recent flare-up in Gaza we know at least one of our friends was mobilised by the IDF. Fortunately on this occasion a ceasefire was agreed and a land battle in Gaza was avoided.

Even in Jordan there have been demonstrations calling for the king to introduce more quickly moves to greater democracy – some even criticising the king, which is highly unusual in that country. Christians in Jordan are providing help to Syrian refugees in their country.

Overshadowing all this is Iran and its nuclear programme which hangs like a cloud over the region.

In our prayers we need to ask the Lord to intervene to bring peace in the region, to pray for Christians, particularly in Syria, for their safety, for the provision of food and shelter for them and for aid to get through. We should pray also for Christians in Egypt who are faced with a government and President intent on forming an Islamic state which follows a narrow, conservative interpretation of Islam.
