

Military Ministries International (MMI) supports Christians in the world's armed forces. Our prayer is that military men and women will come to a living faith in Jesus Christ and grow to be His mature and effective disciples as they serve in their navy, army or air force. Christian service in the military can be a lonely experience; fellowship can be scarce and good, bible-based teaching hard to find. We help military Christians learn their Bibles, find fellowship, receive training and joyfully follow the Lord; and we excitedly anticipate God using them to do mighty things in their nations.

MMI is a non-denominational, UK-registered charity with a small team of former military, or spouses of former military, people (from countries like Britain, France, Germany, Bulgaria, Croatia, India, Zimbabwe and Ghana). We serve Christians in armed forces throughout Europe, the Middle East, South Asia and across Africa, linking with co-workers in many countries of these regions. We support military Chaplains wherever we meet them and encourage the establishment of Military Christian Fellowships (MCFs) in every country.

We like to train military people to teach their own, so that they can grow to maturity without our help. Our work is soaked in prayer; without God we can do nothing and our testimony is that the Lord always does so much more than we can imagine or ask in response (Eph 3:20).
